FEATURED AMBASSADORS

Ambassador: MEGAN ABUBO

Megan just invested in some really nice camera and video equipment and, for once, this World Tour fixture has been on the other side of the lens, filming her friends and all the incredible female surfing talent out there. She was just on a boat trip in Indonesia with a cool group of girls, among them French legend-in-the-making Lee Ann Claren and World Champ Steph Gilmore. Being a surf icon comes with obligations, and Megan keeps busy jetting from contest to contest and duking it out as one of the world's best—but still finds time to share stories and wisdom with her PiperGirL peers.

Ambassador: JULIE GOLDSTEIN

All of us occasional painters or would-be dancers will agree: Julie Goldstein is living the dream. She's one of the fortunate few who doesn't have a day job, just living life as an artist. She's an old-school printmaker with a new school style, and her own studio on one of New Jersey's quaint, sandy barrier islands. And she just opened her own gallery/supply store, Pine Surf Shop, which hosts exhibits and movie nights all summer, and awesome events during hurricane season. She's living the dream, but still down to earth, and full of advice for those of us still dreaming...

♥ Hearts to the PiperGirls!

Each issue, we select a handful of members to showcase in the magazine.

- 1. CHLOFLOW, San Clemente, CA: Chloe's not only on her high school dance team, but she's also a serious surfer. A recent big adventure? A father/daughter boat trip to Indonesia.
- 2. KAYLEE, Coatesville, PA: She's from Pennsylvania but that doesn't stop her from surfing in the ESA and NSSA. To keep in shape during the off season, she runs track, and when the East Coast waves are flat (which is pretty often!) she skates.
- 3. JESSICA, Rigby, ID: She absolutely lives for the snow, competing in Boardercross and Slopestyle. She's also spent a lot of time on PiperGirls—her profile has tons of photos, video, and music.
