

BRIDGETTE MAYER GALLERY

Philadelphia, PA – February 26, 2021. Gallery Artist Rebecca Rutstein was recently featured as a guest on the Philadelphia-based podcast Live from RADIOKISMET in an episode titled “From Studio to Gallery to Submarine with Rebecca Rutstein.” Rutstein joined host Christopher Plant to talk about her career as an artist, her inspirations, recent projects, and her relationship with Bridgette Mayer and the Bridgette Mayer Gallery. The episode has a runtime of 53 minutes and can be found anywhere podcasts are available.

Episode Summary:

On this episode of Live at RADIOKISMET, Rebecca Rutstein joins as a guest. Rebecca is a Philly-based artist whose work blends art, science and technology. She’s spent time collaborating with scientists by going on expeditions at sea in different locations around the world.

Rebecca discusses her many adventures from her residency in Iceland to studying geology at Cornell. She currently has a sculpture at The Bower, a native garden and sculpture park in Central PA. Rebecca is now preparing for an expedition on the Atlantis research vessel taking place this year.

Rebecca can be found at RebeccaRutstein.com and @Rebecca.Rutstein on Instagram.

Listen to the podcast here: <https://radiokismet.com/podcasts/studio-gallery-submarine-rebecca-rutstein/>